HATS IN RING FOR PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S JOB

POLITICIANS AMAZED OVER THE SHOWER

BORAH, DAWES, LOWDEN HAVE MADE RECENT GESTURES

INDICATE THEY WOULD NOT REFUSE REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 2.—Hats are falling into the ring for President Coolidge's job so fast that politicians here are amazed.

Senator William E. Borah, anti-world court dry; Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Senator Jim Watson, leader of the Indiana republican organization, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois have made recent gestures indicating they would not refuse the 1928 republican presidential nomination.

With the next republican convention about two years off and no word from the White House as to whether Mr. Coolidge will seek another term, unusual significance is being attached to recent developments.

Besides the four mentioned a dozen others are in the background, led by Speaker Nick Longworth of Ohio, Secretary of Commerce Hoover of California and Senator Wadsworth of New York, wet.

While anything may happen in two years to boost or kill the chances of the leading quartet, here is the situation as interpreted by politicians here:

Borah—His Baltimore speech gained him welcome leadership of dry republicans in congress as their prospective candidate. His boom was first launched in his home state of Idaho, after his fight against the world court in the senate this spring. Further impetus was given to the movement in Illinois, when he aided the anti-world court campaign of Colonel Frank Smith in his successful primary fight against Senator William B. McKinley for the republican senatorial nomination. He has been as close to President Coolidge as others in congress. He declined the vice presidency as Mr. Coolidge's running mate in 1924. He apparently has no political organization as yet, but the dries could make one for him.

Borah is regarded as a liberal and staunch advocate of far reaching farm relief. He has come into conflict with the administration repeatedly upon foreign policy.

Dawes—His championship of revision of senate rules in his inaugural speech and subsequent campaign were hailed as a forecast that he would enter the 1928 ring. But his candidacy has been given a recent spurt because of an announcement that he believed the "equalization fee" system of stabilizing farm prices is economically sound, although that view is directly opposed to the view of the president.

He made a national rules campaign last summer and will continue his speaking tour this summer. He is a good friend of Lowden and might withdraw if Lowden ran.

Lowden—First of opponents of the president to bob up after a speaking tour last winter in which he opposed the president's farm relief stand. Word from the mid-west has given politicians here the firm impression that he is probably the strongest candidate in the corn and wheat belts.

He turned down the republican vice presidential nomination in 1924 after it was given him. He has the ground work laid for a big organization.

He is a dirt farmer and has been making speeches for several months throughout the country on farm relief legislation.

Watson—He apparently dominates the republican organization in Indiana as manifest by his overwhelming victory in the recent senatorial primary.

Always previously a supporter of the president in everything, he came out publicly last week in favor of the equalization fee farm provision, opposed by the president.

2,000 PERSONS KILLED IN CYCLONE SWEEPING BURMA

Rangoon, June 2.—(UP)—At least 2,000 persons were killed in the cyclone which swept Burma on May 23 and as the check on the toll continued it was feared that the list might reach 4,000, the commissioner for Arrakan has announced.

The greater part of the deaths was in the Mungdaw township, where a tidal wave swept up the Naaf river for many miles.

The scene there today is one of utmost desolation, with dead cattle floating on the waters and ruined homes on the banks of the stream.

TRAIN PAINTED DEEP CARDINAL RED, 7 COACHES

WILL MAKE RAPID RUN, NEW YORK TO CHICAGO,
JUNE 16

WILL BEAR CARDINAL BONZANA,
THE PAPAL DELEGATE

Chicago, June 2.—(UP)—Painted a deep cardinal red, a seven car train will leave New York June 16, on a rapid run to Chicago bearing Cardinal Bonzana, papal delegate, to the International Eucharistic Congress here, it was announced today.

The train is being specially painted and fitted for the cardinal and group of church dignitaries who will accompany him. Right of way for the entire trip will be given the train on the New York Central lines.

Each car will be painted in the deep cardinal red and the interior fittings will be elaborately decorated. The Pullman company has announced that every car will be named after some high official of the Catholic church.

The papal delegate's private car is being completed now and will be one of the most elaborate ever built by the Pullman company. Special woodwork, draperies and rugs are being installed and the interior will be all marked with the cardinal's coat of arms.

Indications here today were that the train would be met at each stop along the line by thousands of Catholics and that the trip would be rivalled only by the triumphal tour home of George Cardinal Mundelein, Chicago's own cardinal. A special celebration will mark the arrival of the train in Chicago.

CLAIMS LARGE SURPLUS PILING UP IN TREASURY

Washington, June 2.—(UP)—A plea of a new tax reduction based on reports of a huge surplus accumulating in the treasury, was made in the senate today by Sen. Copeland, democrat, New York.

"If reports are true, there will soon be a large surplus in the treasury. Why shouldn't we have a reduction in the income tax," Copeland demanded. He served notice he would ask the finance committee to report on the matter.

EWING SAYS THERE MAY BE ANOTHER PRAYER

6 PERSONS PRAYED FOR PUBLIC
MANIFESTATION OF GOD
AT TAMARACK

100 LOOKED ON IN SKEPTICAL
SILENCE, IN POPLAR GROVE

Tamarack, Minn., June 2.—(UP)—Vernon Ewing, for a day a devout religious crusader with a high purpose, today returned to his occupation of fitting eye glasses. He was somewhat quizzically wondering about his failure to bring about a manifestation from God.

For yesterday six persons prayed silently for a public manifestation, while more than 100 looked on in skeptical silence, and there was no sign from the heavens.

"There may be another prayer," Ewing said today. "I don't know. I haven't lost my faith in religion and shall continue my studies of theology, but some of my views on religion have changed" and with that Ewing plodded away to repair a pair of spectacles.

There were six people gathered in the clearing which was set in the heart of a grove of tall pines, when the hour of silent prayer came yesterday. Ewing, his wife and one child and three people from an adjoining town, whose names were not learned.

In the grove beyond the clearing more than 100 people stood and looked on. Some snickered, some prayed and others gave indication they would like to join the little band of six but lacked the nerve.

Three deputy sheriffs, sitting on logs nearby, whittled during the hour's devotion, prepared to take a hand in event any demonstrations were attempted.

CLAIM CAPTAIN WAS DRUNK AT MASQUERADE

CHARLES MOORE DE VALIN
FACES COURT MARTIAL
AT NORFOLK

IS COMMANDING OFFICER OF THE
NORFOLK NAVAL HOSPITAL

Norfolk, Va., June 2.—(UP)—Testimony that Captain Charles Moore De Valin, commanding officer of the Norfolk naval hospital, was drunk at a masquerade dance, last fall and insisted upon showing the women guests how he arranged his clothing so he could wear kilts, was introduced in a naval court martial of De Valin here today.

Commander Robert G. Heiser, executive officer of the hospital and complainant against his superior, was the first witness. He testified that De Valin was drunk October 30 last at the masquerade attended by prominent persons of the naval colony.

He insisted, according to Heiser, upon forcing his attentions upon women guests, only to be pushed away.

"Then he would paw over them," said Heiser.

Heiser charged that De Valin had consumed much whiskey at the naval hospital, but subsequently expressed no compunction about this as the liquor "had been taken from a navy transport."

At one time, according to the witness, De Valin ordered two quarts of champagne at the hospital and after drinking it, complained that it was "flat."

De Valin then gave orders that the champagne be "in better condition the next time."

Evidence was submitted to show that the captain had been warned of his conduct by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in Washington.

WIDOWED MOTHER GIVES LIFE TO SAVE DAUGHTER

Duquesne, Pa., June 2.—(UP)—A widowed mother today gave her life to save that of her seven year old daughter.

Mrs. Rose Stolar, 31, as was her usual custom, accompanied her daughter Mary to school. When they approached the railroad tracks of the Pennsylvania near Duquesne station, Mrs. Stolar holding the child's hand, stood by the tracks as an east bound passenger train roared by.

When she started across the track the engine of a west bound train bore down on the pair.

Mrs. Stolar without a moment's hesitation hurled the little girl out of danger but was killed herself.

WAGE SCALES OF THE ENGINE MEN DISCUSSED

300 GENERAL CHAIRMEN REPRESENT FULL STRENGTH OF ORGANIZATION

U. S. AND CANADA REPRESENTED IN CONFERENCE AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., June 2.—(UP)—Three hundred Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers general chairmen representing the full strength of the organization in the United States and Canada met here today to discuss the question of wage scales.

Reports of committees are expected to occupy today's sessions, according to Grand Chief Engineer Alfred Johnston. Some plan of action will probably be decided upon tomorrow.

The meeting, according to Johnston, is the result of a vote taken among the chairmen some time ago asking them if they desired to participate in a wage movement looking toward more money and better working conditions.

What proposals will be put before the meeting cannot be determined until after the committees have been appointed and their reports made, Johnston said.

Two months ago, chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen voted almost unanimously for a wage movement, asking for a flat increase to $1 an hour without any change in rules governing working hours and conditions.

W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen is in New York today to sit in at a meeting of managers representing large eastern railways.

At that time the demands of the trainmen will be submitted.

Locomotive firemen will also discuss wages today according to D. B. Robertson, president. Firemen will be represented by a sub-committee of general chairmen.

The murdered woman was known to several witnesses as Mrs. Chrystal Barrier of Chicago and the man as James Lanarta.

The wounded woman was known only as Mrs. Bass.

County police made hurried efforts to round up witnesses in attempts to explain what caused the battle. Windows and walls of the roadhouse were shattered with bullet marks giving indication of a battle of unusual proportions.

TRY FARM SCENE OF

Between 450 and 500 fowls of broiler size were stolen from the Bemidji Hatchery and Poultry Farms Sunday night or Monday night. The lock of the door into the coop was forced and the watch dog was chloroformed.

Apparently the chickens also were given an anesthetic and carried a block or two away to a waiting vehicle. The value of the poultry was estimated at $500.

The young gymnasium teacher ate a hearty meal last Monday night and does not expect to eat another until he arrives in New York about June 30.

NORWEGIAN CHURCH OF AMERICA IN CONFERENCE

10,000 DELEGATES AT MINNE-APOLIS REPRESENTING
300,000 COMMUNICANTS

BIENNIAL CONVENTION PRESID-
ED OVER BY REV. J. A.
AASGAARD

Minneapolis, June 2.—(UP)—Ten thousand delegates representing the 300,000 communicants of 2,698 congregations, gathered today in the biennial convention of the Norwegian Church of America and heard the report of President J. A. Aasgaard of Minneapolis.

Success in endowment campaigns for four Lutheran colleges, need for greater attention to home missions and existence of serious problems in foreign fields were reported by Dr. Aasgaard in his report.

The campaigns for added endowments were conducted by St. Olaf, Luther, Concordia and Augustana colleges. Final reports are to be made at later sessions.

"There is probably no department of the church that needs more attention at present than the work of home missions," Dr. Aasgaard said. "If our church is to grow, we must be kindled with zeal to bring Christ to the people in our own homeland."

"Startling figures make us realize that the church is not holding its own with the increase in population. If our support of home missions decreases, it will eventually break down other activities of the church."

Civil war in China, Dr. Aasgaard said, has caused "great suffering" and placed missionaries and their families in "constant danger of death."

"In China, great problems are pressing for solution," he continued. "The rising spirit of nationalism demands recognition of China to a far greater degree than her present arrangements without countries permit. The proposed regulation of schools conducted by foreigners demands among other things the abolishing of compulsory religious training in the curriculum and eventual control by Chinese of the administration of such institutions."

Dr. Aasgaard memorialized the death of Daniel Nielsen, pioneer missionary in China, who left his Iowa farm to enter the work. Nielsen was killed by a bullet at Sinyang while native armies were fighting.

A gift of $25,000 toward establishment of a separate deaconess home in Chicago was announced. Dr. Aasgaard urged consideration toward meeting the offer.

Dr. Aasgaard also called attention to a new plan for financing the pension fund for aged and disabled pastors, which is to come before the convention for consideration in an effort to bring the funds to such an amount that annual pensions of $600 may be paid instead of only $320, the maximum now available.

The text for his message was the verse: "Ye Also Shall Bear Witness." He said the outstanding responsibility and duty of the church is to witness concerning Christ and His salvation. This duty, he said, extends to every Christian.

"The great duty today is to bring Christ to the individual," he asserted.

HAS HOPE FOR FARM LEGISLATION AT THIS SESSION

Des Moines, Ia., June 2.—(UP)—That there is still a chance for farm legislation at the present session of congress was the sentiment expressed by Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and president of the Holstein-Friesian association of America, presiding at the national convention of the association in session here.

"But I can tell you nothing of what may be done for the farmer at this session, for I have not been in Washington recently," he said. "There's no need for me to say anything on the subject of farm relief to the people of Iowa. They already know how I feel about it."

Feeding of the surplus corn crop of the middle west will not entirely solve the present problem of farmers, Lowden declared.

"It would be foolish to advocate the production of more milk than we could market profitably. We must get at the fundamental problems of agriculture and the shifting of a surplus of one commodity to another will not do this," he said.

POSSES IN KANSAS SEARCH FOR SIX MILITARY PRISONERS

Leavenworth, Kan., June 2.—(UP)—Posses in eastern Kansas and western Missouri were searching early today for six military prisoners, who yesterday effected a break from the disciplinary barracks of Fort Leavenworth. Five of the prisoners attacked and overpowered a guard and escaped while the sixth, who did not take part in the attack on the guard, walked out a few minutes later.

The guard was going off duty when the five men, who were breaking rock, seized him, took his shot gun and tied him to a fence.

The five who attacked the guard were Russel Miller, Cedar town, Ga., serving time for desertion; Joseph Aronsin, Chicago, desertion; Angelo Didio, New York, desertion; John F. Bicknell, Willamette, Conn., desertion, and George Larkin, California, desertion.

G. A. R. veterans were guests of honor at the Rotary club dinner Tuesday at the Ransford hotel. Each veteran present when roll call was given responded, giving the name of his regiment. Speakers on behalf of the G. A. R. were Albert Fox, and J. A. Wilson. Commander Fox told some interesting experiences of old time soldiering, one particular story of foraging a pig for food going over big with the members.

"Perry" Newton, scout executive, reminded the members of Thursday when they will inspect the Boy Scout camp at Clearwater Lake. The members will leave Brainerd at 2:30 p. m.

Dan Whitford of Sioux Falls gave several violin selections and Rev. Paul J. Bockover of Little Falls gave an interesting address.

William V. Turcotte, president of the Brainerd Fishing club reported that the club members were going to Walker next Sunday on a fishing expedition and they would furnish the fish for the dinner next Tuesday.

Visitors from the St. Cloud and Cloquet clubs were in attendance.

A letter was read by the secretary from W. H. Gemmell, president of the M. and I. railway who was on the N. P. officials inspection tour of the roads.

THE MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE HAVE THE FINEST STORES

Smart Coats for Girls and Women

Attractive Materials and Shades Are Available; Skirts Plaited.

Coats for the junior crowd are unusually smart this year. The sports things are shown in fabrics that belong traditionally and logically to heavier garments, both imported and domestic. Few of the crude colors and startling patterns of last year are anywhere in evidence. Now and then something really chic of conspicuous design is shown, but the keynote is restraint. The plain tailored genuinely sports type of top coat is favored. The cape-coat, for which the younger set has shown a preference, is usually made of plain goods or a small check. Fur is used on almost every type of coat except the raglan. Very few novelties have been added to the radical styles of the autumn, but some furs that are modish for misses' sports coats are the oyster-gray caracul, monkey, summer ermine, civet cat, baby leopard and the old and always beautiful silver and blue foxes.

With the jumper the latest skirt is invariably plaited, giving greater freedom of movement and additional smartness of appearance. For this the materials differ very little from those of last season. Their selection depends largely upon the occasion for which the suit is made. For the spring out-of-doors activities there are the new worsteds and woolsens, practicable for a jumper suit because they are finer and lighter than heretofore. They are soft, firm, silky in texture and include the newest colors. In plain goods, which is increasingly fashionable in contrast to sharp and conspicuous patterns just past, are lovely reps, poplins, wool crepes, kasha, plain and novel; basket-weave tweeds, cashmere, jersey.

Varying from these are fabrics which are shown in beige, tans, browns, greens and blues, with much red. In these delightful new achievements of the loom are many novelties in stripes, mixtures, broken patterns and checks, which are particularly good this season. In the check patterns alone are many interesting and unusual arrangements, giving novel effects and pleasant variations of color. Some large plaids and block checks are shown. But these are exceptional. The correct thing for the junior and misses dress of whatever type is a small check of even or uneven spaces.

There is scarlet, flame, geranium, coral and a few of the softer tones copied from fabrics from the Far East.

Black Straw Tam With Red Grosgrain Ribbon

For the tailored woman the black straw tam with red grosgrain ribbon, forming the brim, is a popular spring fashion.

Use Pastel Coloring for Chic Plaid Frock

Paris and Palm Beach both declared in favor of plaids. Occasionally these were in the familiar tartan and bright-colored effects, but it was noticed that the prevailing tendency was toward the most subtle pastel coloring.

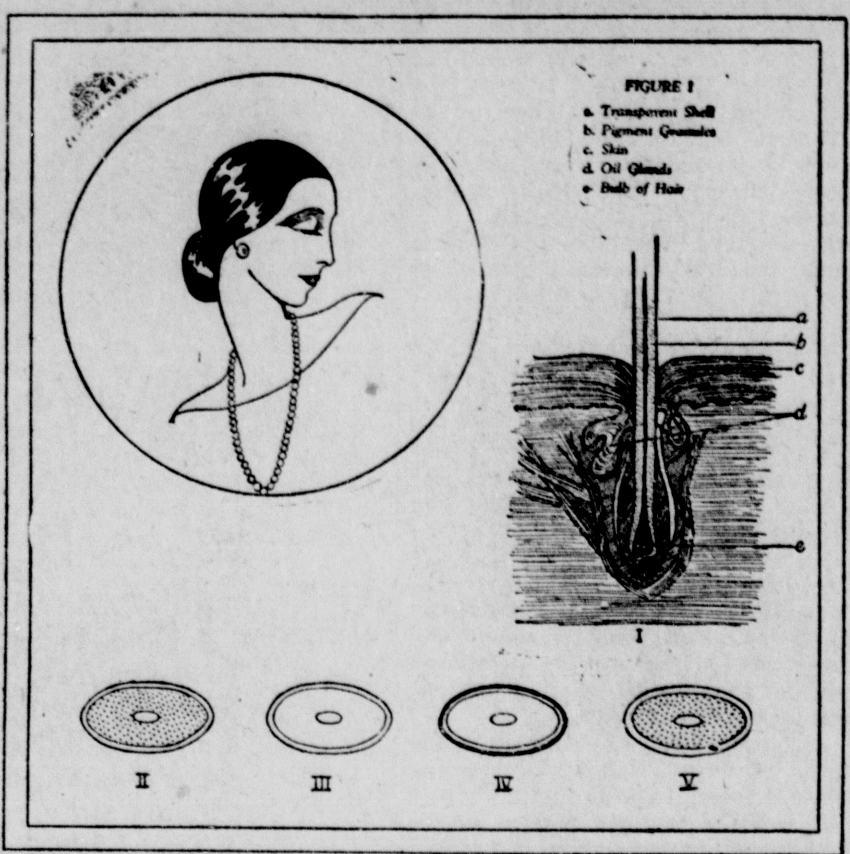

Paris originated the vogue of matching the square taffeta scarf in a striking plaided design with a felt hat painted in the same pattern and colors. This fad quickly found its way to the smart winter resorts and now appears among the important fashions of spring.

There was a time when a plaid frock was considered the prerogative of the schoolgirl. Today it occupies a most conspicuous position in the wardrobe of any woman who makes the slightest claim to chic. Those who feel that an entire frock of plaid silk or wool is a bit too extreme will approve the frocks which compromise by trimming a monotone fabric with the plaid.

Styles in Coats

The long and short of the fashion story so far as coats are concerned may be told by two garments, the cape coat and the camel-hair coat. Either is adaptable for all women. The camel-hair is better suited for short women and has sufficient weight and flare to make its skirts swing gracefully.

What Do You Know About Your Hair?

By JEANNE RUERE
Beauty Specialist

KEEP your hair beautiful—for the old adage about a woman's hair being her crowning glory is as true today as of yore. To do this, however, it is not only necessary to nourish and care for the hair, but also to correct and neutralize a diseased condition—the presence of gray, faded and streaked strands. Medical science considers gray hair a disease, calling it "canities."

Hair, as seen under the microscope (Figure 1) is a long slender stem with a lustrous covering. The number of individual hairs in a single scalp is approximately 120,000, but the number, size and length of the hair differs greatly with individuals. The normal rate of growth is about a half inch a month and there is more rapid growth in the summer than winter.

Every hair has essentially the same structure. Underneath the covering there is a layer of fibres. In these fibres nature puts its color. Thus, the natural color of hair, as it appears to us, is color seen through the lustrous, almost transparent covering of hair. The color is due to tiny granules of pigment and the exact shade of hair is influenced by the number of these granules.

When hair turns gray it simply means that nature no longer supplies color to the inner layer of fibres. The natural color of the inner hair substance is grayish and it is seen through the lustrous translucent covering of the hair.

It is impossible to duplicate the natural color of hair by applying dye on the outside surface. This is merely painting over which actually hides the natural lustrous shell of the hair. However, this is exactly what the old-fashioned dyes and restorers did, giving the hair a garish appearance. It proved unsatisfactory, for it made a hard, flat and palpably artificial effect.

Science comes to the front, solving the problem with a synthetic dye which colors hair inside as nature does. The color pigment goes inside the hair, placing the color under the lustrous surface in the inner fibres. Through this treatment the hair once again assumes a clear, lustrous sheen which defies detection.

This is brought out in the diagram, which illustrates a cross-section of a hair as seen under a microscope. Figure II shows how nature distributes the color through the layers of fibres beneath the outer covering. Figure III, a gray hair, showing that the color is gone from the layer of fibres underneath the outer covering. Figure IV, a gray hair as colored by a coating dye, illustrating the crust around the outside. Figure V, a hair recolored by the synthetic dye, indicating that color is again in the layer of fibres underneath the outer coating, exactly as in Figure II of natural colored hair.

Too much care cannot be taken in the selection of hair dye. Particular caution should be taken to see that the dye restores the color in the fibres of the hair and not merely coats the outer shell.

who heartily disliked the style. It is no longer a prescribed item—its provinces are reduced, and yet in essence Paris has made the sports dress for the new season more appealing, more smart, more tasteful than ever before.

The few frills that are in evidence are necessary concessions to the hair for details so characteristic of the new spring mode. Yet for the most part the frocks are simple—perhaps trig, an excessive word found in no dictionary, better describes them. Interesting Lanvin models are arrayed for tennis—the costumes are a little more elaborate than those worn by Suzanne and Helen at Nice, but for the more casual and social racquet wielder they are in excellent taste. On one model the skirt is of plaid crepe de chine, and the jumper is of jersey kasha in the same shade. This particular outfit is green, but it would be equally attractive in any pastel hue. Another figure adds a striking landscape note which would be as much appreciated in the galleries as on the courts. Indeed, we should prefer it in the role of spectator. The background of the frock is white crepe de chine, the polka dots are black and the collar streamers and cuffs are of almond green crepe de chine.

Gabrielle Chanel shows a stunning

Soft Summery Dress Is of Pale Green Chiffon

Showing a winsome summery dress of pale green chiffon with white polka dots. The costume features a three-flounce skirt and a hat of green silk hair with flowers of silk and velvet combination.

Smocking Is Prominent; Embroidery Permissible

Perhaps even more in the mode than either tucks or fagoting is smocking. We see it everywhere. At the cuffs and yoke only of the less expensive models since smocking is hand-work and costs much. But it is also to be had in quantities on exquisite frocks of georgette, fine flat crepe and chiffon.

fon. A charming effect and one frequently seen is smocking, low placed, coming down in a point at the front of the waist.

On these fragile materials the smocking must, indeed, be done by a master of the art—or rather by a mistress.

Any one of the delectable creations may be topped by a swagger cape-coat of charmeen in powder or navy blue. A lovely model is in powder charmeen, with a small collar of squirrel which harmonizes so beautifully with the blue. Only a small collar, if you please. For as lavishly as fur has been used the past winter, just so sparingly will it appear this summer. All the fur bottoms of last year's coats must be discarded. They are as passe as last year's roses. Braid embroidery is permissible and a narrow fur border down the front if you insist. Charmeen, by the way, is extremely smart once more.

Popular Polka Dots in Every Size and Pattern

The vogue of the polka dot, prophesied during the late winter, is everywhere apparent. In both silk and cotton dress materials polka dots of every size and arrangement of pattern are shown. Some are large, spaced at regular intervals, but there are few of the huge showy disks of two seasons ago when "dots" were the size of baseballs. All of the "summer" silks, pussywillow and the crepes and chiffons, are printed in dots, the smaller in an irregular, cluster and scattered plan being most in demand. The polka-dot pattern is much used, too, for coat linings, slips, for parasols, in scarves, ties, hat bands and handkerchiefs. Very large squares are now shown for kerchiefs to wear in the pocket of a tailored frock or a coat. These are dashing trifles made of chiffon or the sheepest mousseline. Among the novelties in hosiery are some in polka-dot designs, both the very small and those of medium size.

Two-Piece Frocks Are Popular for Spring

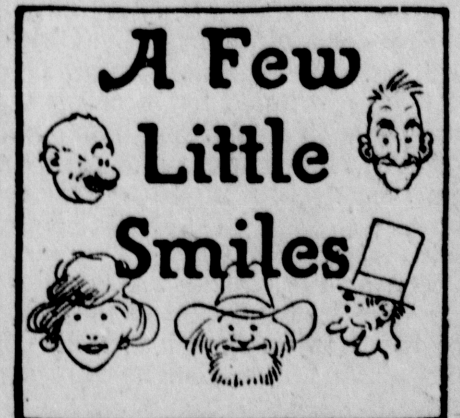

Two-piece frocks are, if anything, more in evidence than they were last season. However, there is a noticeable difference. Instead of being uncompromisingly plain and severe after the fashion of mannish clothes, many show feminine touches in the addition of exquisite collars and cuffs, of frilly jabots and colorful pinnings and bindings.

The note of femininity is also revealed in high stocks and jabots of white or cream lace which are worn with plain tailored suits. It is a fashion which recalls the mode of several decades ago but it's new enough to this generation to have the element of novelty which makes for success.

Latest Girdles

Women with small waists and large hips who have been claiming that getting into the step-in elastic girdles has not been a step but a tug of war have been afforded relief. The latest girdles have two small vents, one at either side of the waist. These are unlaced when the garment is pulled over the hips and then laced snugly about the waist.

Read Why Hupmobile Six Excels Cars Even Higher in Price

Hupmobile Six superiority is basic. It is conclusive. It does not exclude even cars above our price. Herewith are briefly detailed a few of the features—the easy steering, the rigid crankshaft, the clear-vision bodies, the filtered oil and gasoline, and the like—which contribute to that pre-eminence in performance and economy, and to beauty and safety as well.

Rigid, No-whip Crankshaft—

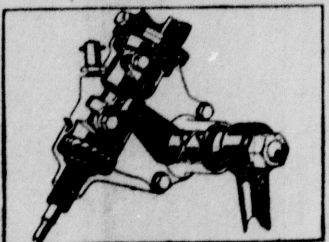

Hupmobile Six has a heavy, rigid crankshaft—the kind too costly for common use. Vibration is eliminated in a six by a rigid crankshaft to overcome whipping and bending, and by a damper to counteract the torsional or twisting tendency of a revolving crankshaft.

No Dirt or Water in the Gasoline—

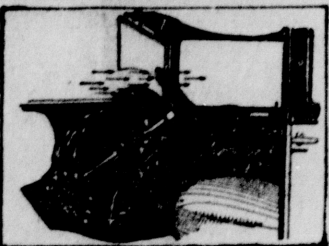

Every drop of gasoline is filtered clear of all dirt, sediment and water. The gasoline going into the carburetor of this car is clean. Another highly valuable safeguard.

Remarkably Easy Steering—

Few cars steer as easily as this. It seems as though you only wish to turn and the turn is made. Hupmobile was first to use steering gear especially designed for easy control with balloon tires. The ball bearing principle of the mechanism keeps steering easy when the weather is cold as when it is warm.

Special Windshield Clear-Vision, Ventilating—

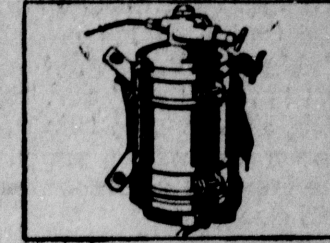

The one-piece, clear-vision windshield ventilates without tilting in or out. It raises vertically by a hand lifter, circulating a full-width sweep of air down into the driving compartment, and straight back into the car when desired, as shown by the arrows.

Special Vibration Damper—

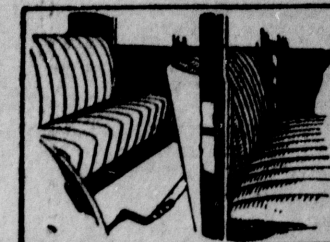

No vibration damper can do more than eliminate the torsional vibration already referred to. And without a heavy, rigid crankshaft such as this engine has, a damper itself means little. The Hupmobile Six damper is a special and improved design.

Clean Oil From the Oil Filter—

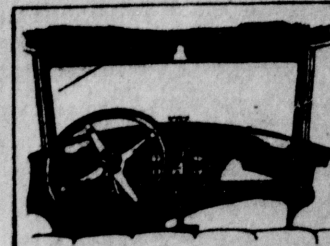

The Hupmobile Six disposes of dirty engine oil by a highly efficient oil filter. The oil automatically passes through the filter under pressure, and is led to bearings and moving parts wholly freed from dirt, bits of carbon and other contamination which do actual damage.

Newest Upholstery in Latest Mode—

Closed car upholstery is a new shade of blue-gray, best described as plaid, in a deep pile fabric. Cushions are soft and deep, built over springs which contribute greatly to comfort.

Safety in the Clear-Vision Bodies—

Hupmobile bodies have narrow pillars for clear vision. At the pillars, the internal framing is of steel. Elsewhere the framing is of wood. This composite construction affords all advantages of both steel and wood and eliminates the disadvantages of all-steel and all-wood.

Sedan, for five, four-door, $1385; Coupe, for two, with rumble seat, $1385; Touring, for five, $1325. 30 x 5.25 balloon tires, 4-wheel brakes. All prices f.o.b. Detroit, plus revenue tax.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

As commented on in the Minneapolis Journal by Charles Cheney, "chaotic political conditions which result from the primary election law in its present form are noted by the New Ulm Journal, which demand a return to the convention plan. Only such a change, in the opinion of the New Ulm paper, will prevent further development of the bloc system now appearing in state and national politics."

The New Ulm Journal article states:

Since the primary law has been on the statute books politics has been running wild. This is true in most of the northwest states, and particularly so since the Nonpartisan league has injected its activities into the political field. The league knows no party at the primary, as its members often call for ballots in another party and vote against the leading candidate. This is done in the hope that it will eliminate a difficult man at the primary and their candidate will have easier sledding at the general election. It is rumored that leaguers will call for republican ballots at the primary and vote for Leach in a desire to defeat Christianson, the candidate who is leading the field. Should Christianson be defeated, their candidate for governor, they reason, will have easier going at the general election.

The primary law is a farce and a misnomer in Minnesota, as well as in other northwest states, and should be repealed. Any candidate, who desires to enter the lists for public office may do so, providing he has the registration fee. He is a party unto himself, after being elected, and is responsible to no one. The bloc system, which is developing in congress and state legislatures, is a product of the primary system. Congressmen and legislators are not responsible to any party organization for their activities. To the bloc status in politics can be laid much of the disorganization in Europe. Large numbers of blocs are to be found in each national assembly in Europe. It is difficult to proceed expeditiously with legislation and at times legislative chaos ensues.

It is time to junk the primary system, return to party politics and institute a convention system with proper safeguards, where every candidate is responsible to his party and must run true to form, or lose his party's support.

SINCLAIR LEWIS LIKES OUR LAKES

SINCLAIR LEWIS, author of "Main Street" and "Babbitt" and other best sellers will spend his entire summer writing in the deep pines and alongside the cooling waters of Breezy Point Lodge on Big Pelican lake, where he has rented a quiet cottage from Captain William H. Fawcett.

Whenever he wants more of a touch of the outdoors he will operate his trusty typewriter in the shadows of a tent in the woods near by on the same large estate. As to writing his next novel all about preachers, "It's a myth," said Mr. Lewis. He had no idea how that originated unless because he had traveled with a preacher, and the latter, by the way, was of the sturdy kind, having been national chaplain of the American Legion.

"Mantrap," which ran as a serial in Collier's is to appear in book form and has also been pictured.

"I suppose everybody will flock to the picture houses to see how they have treated my story," commented Mr. Lewis reminiscently as he sat on the counter of a Brainerd store yesterday, figuring the size of a cot he was to install in his tent.

His cheeks are ruddy and glowing with health and match well the thatch of his red shock. A Hawaiian chauffeur drove Lewis' big Buick. And the chauffeur by the way speaks little English beyond "yes" and "no."

"Oh, I've been in this country before and know these lakes," Mr. Lewis said with a smile. "And I know the newspaper game and the troubles of a country editor trying to fill his paper with news," he said.

Brainerd and the entire lake region are glad to welcome Mr. Lewis. We hope he finds inspiration a-plenty in our woods, lakes, fields, broad highways, our ozone and the hundred and one other things which distinguish our lake country from other sections.

And maybe some wandering phrase, some deft touch in writing, will reflect these natural glories of our section and permanently enshrine in real literature their incomparable beauties.

Sinclair Lewis put Sauk Center's Main Street into such prominence that it compares favorably with any highway like that over the mountains, where Caesar and his mighty army thundered down in chariots. We hope our Inland Trail, our Gull Lake road and other lake roads may share some of the magnificence accorded other streets and roads, if not by direct implication, then by reflected refulgence.

WE WISH HIM SUCCESS

PAUL M. JONES of Minneapolis has established himself in business in Brainerd. As the new owner of the DeSmidt soda grill, Mr. Jones brings to his line experience of the large city kind and the evident desire to serve his community in more ways than one.

As the son of H. V. Jones, publisher of the Minneapolis Journal, he has an extended acquaintance in the Twin Cities. His location on the two great trunk roads entering Brainerd assures him the opportunity to meet his many friends of the Northwest motoring to the Brainerd lake region or returning from the same.

We think it the first time in local history that a man entering business in Brainerd has advertised such a step in a large metropolitan journal. The accession of Mr. Jones to the business life in Brainerd will get large display advertising in the Minneapolis Journal, as well as locally.

We have known the elder Mr. Jones many years. We have a high regard for his son and we hope he "makes good." We wish him all kinds of success.

MAYOR LEACH is certainly filled with the spirit of optimism and promises. He would have Commissioner Babcock pave forty miles of highway even at Babcock's own expense, to please George; he will bring factories to every city in the state, to speed up business and lower taxes; is also willing to dig the deep water way from Duluth to Quebec, and will give every high school town a junior college. This is a fine, ambitious program, but we much fear the voters do not take him quite seriously.—St. Cloud Daily Journal Press.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"TREAT 'EM ROUGH"

This is a maxim out of the discredited decalogue of force. The earth is not inherited by the rough, the tough, the rowdy and the iron-shod, but by the meek.

The parasaurus and the triceratops with their gigantic bulk, their horrid fury and their terrible combats have perished by their own strength, but the rabbits and the mice inherit the earth.

This "treat 'em rough" policy is discredited everywhere. Large employers of labor know that in industry it means strikes, discontent, rebelliousness, mutiny and sabotage. Statesmen know that in politics it means radicalism, disorders, mutinies and sedition. Big business knows that the public will not consent to be damned, but that courtesy and consideration have a cash value above all tyrannies and monopolies.

No father in 1926 can successfully apply the theory to the government of his home. He no longer owns his wife and his children. The emancipation of women and the education of his children have made it impossible for him to govern except by the power of loving justice and paternal solicitude.

Even in the army this maxim is discredited. Men will follow "the little colonel," beloved, into the jaws of Hell when "hard boiled Smith" cannot get them out of rest billets.

The maxim is a failure in the field of religion. The generation of youth in 1926 will not suffer any man or group of men to tell them what they must believe. But it will beat a path across the continent to listen to a man who can intelligently and helpfully tell them what they can believe.

She Wanted to Go Abroad

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright.)

ROMANCES are rather rare in most business offices, but in the Star Life Insurance association they did not exist. Numerous girls worked there—typists, stenographers, filing clerks, doing monotonous work.

So when Grant Bradford showed symptoms of being very seriously interested in Rose Fairfax, the new girl in the filing department, much curiosity was aroused.

Sometimes people wondered about Rose Fairfax. She was the daughter of a fairly well-to-do doctor up town. She had just been graduated from college. Obviously she did not need to work for her daily bread, yet even more obviously she was not one of those girls who work only that they may have finery. Most girls would have looked dowdy in the plain old clothes that Rose wore, only Rose couldn't have looked dowdy if she had tried. Somehow she imparted an air of distinction and smartness to anything she had on.

Then people began to wonder about Grant. He was considered something of a wizard in his work as statistician and received a really good salary for a man of his age. So far as his associates knew he had no dependents, nor did he seem to be a boarder—yet he ate at one of the most inexpensive places in the neighborhood, never wore new clothes, and lived in a cheap rooming house. Apparently he had no extravagant habits.

So matters progressed and Grant Bradford and Rose Fairfax seemed more and more seriously attached to each other. Then came a reception and dance held in honor of a distinguished foreigner by the president of the Star Life Insurance association, and Grant Bradford with a few other more important personages in the office was invited. Grant Bradford asked for an invitation for Rose and felt sure that Rose would readily consent to go with him.

"It's thoughtful of you," Rose told him, and Grant noticed that she grew embarrassed and colored as she spoke. "I'd like to go, but I really don't think I ought to."

Grant said that she must have a reason for declining and Rose said that she had. She didn't have explained but Grant felt offended and showed it. So Grant went alone to the reception and the next day lunched with Rose without mentioning the rather painful subject. They continued to lunch together but there was a strangeness between them that the more observant at the Star office did not fail to observe.

Ten one day Grant was late at luncheon time and he asked Rose to linger while he ate. It wouldn't matter if she did stay out a little over her allotted hour. "I was late on purpose. I wanted to talk with you a little after the crowd had thinned out and we could have a table to ourselves. Rose—I think we ought to talk things over. You wouldn't go to that dance with me and I've often wanted to take you to the movies or one of the museums, but you wouldn't go."

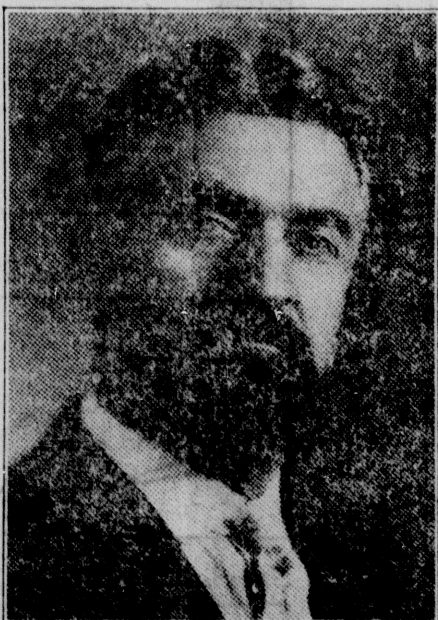

"Movies—museums," said Rose, with something of a sneer. Then she thought for a moment and added, "Well, perhaps I ought to have explained, Grant, but now I think of it. I don't see that I owe you an explanation. You—you—"

"Rose," said Grant with some emotion, "I know what you're thinking. You're thinking that I've been an awful tightwad. Well, I have—but I've had a great ambition all my life—all through college—and when I took this job here I knew it was hard. I'm getting a decent salary—and I'm saving every penny I can to realize that ambition."

"I've had a sort of ambition," confessed Rose. "I really don't have to work so far as making a living is concerned, but ever since I entered college I've had an ambition—and I'm saving now to bring it about. So I haven't bought anything for myself. I didn't go to that party because I didn't want to spend money for a new frock—though I am a little sorry now."

bition now," admitted Grant. "I've been a fool. If I hadn't been so stingy maybe you would have liked me better. I've longed to send you orchids and roses—to take you to the opera and to good plays—but always I remembered my ambition. Rose—I'm sorry, Rose—what was your ambition?"

"I wanted to go abroad. I'm going to go in June—at least I planned to go then and I have saved almost enough—"

Grant laughed, and there was a note of joyousness in his voice. "Why, Rose, dear," he said, "that is exactly my ambition. I've arranged for a three-months' leave in the summer. I'll have finished up this survey by that time—and—"

He looked very intently at Rose and wished that her hand was not so far across the table. "Rose—dear—let's go together. I've enough saved to take us both. You can spend what you've saved to buy the pretty dresses you want—though you don't need lovely clothes to make you look lovely to me."

And when June came Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bradford sailed for France.

Their steamer passage had been paid—it was the wedding present of the Star Insurance association, in token of the only romance that had ever come to pass within its walls.

One Use for Them

"Hope you liked those odd little Chinese back-scratchers I sent you, dear."

"Mercy! Is that what they are? I've been making my husband eat his salad with them."

It's So

"Well, Dolly, how do you like my new sweater?"

"You shouldn't say sweater, uncle, you should say perspirator."—Passing Show.

Always Lovers of Horses

When Julius Caesar made his incursions into England or the land of the Britons in the years 55 and 54 B. C., he made note of the size and strength of the horses possessed by the Britons.

It Talks!

"IT TALKS!" exclaimed the astounded Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, one June day in 1876, as he held to his ear the receiver of Alexander Graham Bell's telephone, then on exhibit at the Philadelphia centennial exposition, while the young inventor, some distance away, spoke into the transmitter.

Time has not detracted from the drama of this scene, nor robbed the emperor's tribute of its truth. Fifty remarkable years have passed. Important among their contributions to human progress has been the development of Bell's idea into a nation-wide, universal telephone service. But the wonder of the telephone is still that which arrested men's thoughts a half century ago—that it can talk.

Herein lies its unique value to the individual and the nation. It provides, as nothing else can, a means of speeding over great distances, privately and without interruption, the intimate, personal tones of the human voice. It projects personality. It unites millions of Americans, though separated by the breadth of a continent, into a single vast commonwealth of speech.

BROOKHART ANSWERS HIS CRITICS TODAY

Sioux City, Ia., June 2.—(UP)—Alleging vast sums of money are being used to corrupt the Iowa election machinery and charging a plot is under way to "frame him" by charges of misuse of the franking system, former Senator Smith W. Brookhart answered his critics today.

The answers came in telegrams to Senator David Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, and Senator James Reed, democrat, Missouri, in which he asked both to take the matter before the senate.

The telegrams:
"Hon. David A. Reed, Washington, D. C.

"Just read your statement that my campaign committee had violated your franking privilege. The whole transaction is a frame up and bears the earmarks of the Daugherty gang. Your envelope came sealed and my committee sent them out without opening. If my literature was inserted in any of them it was by parties designing to frame a case for your statement. Since your statement to the senate was made without consulting me, in fairness I ask that you present this telegram to the senate today. Will you also kindly furnish the senate investigating committee the source of your information."
(Signed) "Smith W. Brookhart."

"Hon. James A. Reed, Washington, D. C.

"Evidence is accumulating of a wholesale effort to Newberryize Iowa in the June 7 primary. Vast sums of money are appearing from outside sources to organize and corrupt the election machinery. Vast quantities of literature with false stories are being circulated at the last minute. A case was framed to convince Senator Reed of Pennsylvania that his franking privilege has been violated and other similar things are planned. I request that your committee act before the primary."
(Signed) "Smith W. Brookhart."

MURDER AND SUICIDE END OLD ROMANCE

Superior, Wis., June 2.—(UP)—A romance that began in the old country and was transplanted to America ended in murder and suicide today.

Einar Fossen, 28, shot and killed Christine Troin, 19, and then ended his own life Tuesday night because she had changed her mind about marriage and refused to consider him as a suitor.

Together Fossen and the girl, who had been sweethearts in Norway, came to America six weeks ago to make a fortune in the new world so they could be married.

TRUCK AND TOURING CAR IN COLLISION

Owatonna, Minn., June 2.—(UP)—John Redican, operator for the Claremont Dray line, is in the county jail here as the result of a motor accident in which Mrs. Lewis Winship and her two children were injured.

Redican's truck and the Winships' touring car collided near the Winship farm on trunk highway No. 1 just outside the city. The crash threw the touring car squarely around and rolled it into a ditch. The truck also plunged from the road.

Witnesses declared that Redican and two companions had been drinking.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, June 2.—(UP)—The Parisian and the American are always at odds when it comes to little details of fashion. The main fashion ideas of Paris are always carried out in America but we are not always ready to accept minor style details. For instance, the smart French woman is now wearing black glazed kid gloves of short type with little ruffles at the wrists while the smart American invariably wears suede in light shades such as parchment, beige or gray. The Parisian will doubtless cling to her black gloves until the real warm weather sets in.

In the matter of corsage for day wear, the Parisian prefers leather boutonnieres to the silk or cotton flowers of American preference. At present leather asters with shriveled petals painted in Oriental colors and outlined in silver or gilt are considered very swank in Paris. Patent leather flowers in colors with the inside of the petals tinted with opalescent luster are another novelty. For wear with the sports outfit, varicolored flowers of felt are considered smart.

While we are wearing parchment colored hosiery the Parisian wears beige and rose de bois. Recently there has been an effort to bring sheer white stockings back into vogue and many well dressed Parisians are wearing them with black shoes. So far, this style has not been launched in America.

Skirts are shorter in Paris than they have been during the winter and there is no sign of them coming downward.

Some of the most attractive wraps in Paris are in reality mackintoshes. The American wears rubberized silk raincoats in bright or pastel shades which are strictly for rain purposes. The French woman combines the raincoat with the street coat in a garment resembling lustrous satin which completely camouflages its utility purpose. A stunning wrap of this type is a rubberized black satin coat with a detachable cape lined throughout in white.

POLICE WORK ON 3 THEORIES

JEALOUSY, ROBBERY, REVENGE THOUGHT MOTIVES IN MURDER OF WISCONSIN MAN

Milwaukee, Wis., June 2.—(UP)—Working on three theories, jealousy, robbery and revenge, police of Racine and Milwaukee counties today continued their efforts to solve the murder of Walter Frenz, whose bruised and battered body was found in a culvert near here Monday.

Mrs. Clara Herrington, brought here from Racine, identified the corpse as that of her brother. She is being held at the detention home. Search was continued for the driver of the automobile in which Frenz is believed to have come to Milwaukee and also for two pals of the slain man.

Strangulation was the cause of death, according to Dr. Edward Mihalovich, who conducted a post mortem examination. He declared there was every indication that Frenz put up a desperate fight for life.

SUIT TO COLLECT BACK INCOME TAXES

Chicago, June 2.—(UP)—Suit to collect $39,500 in back income taxes from receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad was filed by the government in the federal court here today.

Hearing on the suit was set for June 25 after attorneys for the receivers had filed a bill of objections.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

CHARGES INVASION OF STATE'S RIGHTS

Columbus, June 2.—(UP)—Accusing the republican administration of "invading state's rights," United States Senator W. H. King of Utah, sounded what was termed the "battle cry of national democracy" at a state-wide democratic rally here today.

"The most important issue before the people today," Sen. King declared discussing President Coolidge's recent executive order commissioning state and county officials as prohibition agents, "is the preservation of individual rights."

"Not only must we preserve individual rights," the senator continued, "but we must preserve local government against this new federalism, which is centralizing all authority in Washington and building up the most oppressive bureaucracy that has ever cursed any country."

The states are rapidly being devitalized, Senator King said he believed, adding "the people look on with complacency or mild resentment at these aggressions on the part of the federal government, which must culminate, if continued, in the destruction of the right of individual states and indirectly the rights of individuals."

8 BUS COMPANIES SEEK PERMITS TO OPERATE IN STATE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 2.—(UP)—A strike of Indianapolis street car workers will be called at 2 a. m. tomorrow unless the company meets wage demands of the men, it was reported today by Robert Armstrong, vice president of the National Union of Street Car and Electric Railway workers.

Armstrong said more than 1,000 men would walk out if the strike was called.

Street car officials were understood to be preparing to seek an injunction to prevent the strike.

Arguments Dealt Largely in Personalities In Evolution Case

Nashville, Tenn., June 2.—(UP)—Evolution and John Thomas Scopes, the young school teacher, who violated the law to test it, gave way to other things in Tennessee today and the evolution disputants left their case to the decision of the state supreme court. After two days of heated arguments dealing largely in personalities both sides rested yesterday afternoon and closed the second and perhaps final step in the much advertised Scopes case.

Woman Unaccounted For In Passenger List of Sunken Ship

New York, June 2.—(UP)—Efforts to raise the sunken Hudson river steamer Washington Irving were forgotten today and all energies were concentrated on a search for Mrs. Lynn Arthur Hoag and her daughter, Mary, aged 3, unaccounted for since the boat sank yesterday morning.

After the excitement of the rescue of the 200 passengers and 100 crew members of the Washington Irving had subsided, Betty and Arthur Hoag, aged 7 and 5, respectively, were found crying for their mother.

3 BUS LINES GIVEN PERMITS

ROUTES ARE IN UPPER MESABIA RANGE COUNTRY

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—(UP)—Permits to operate buses on three lines were granted by the state railroad and warehouse commission today to the Arrowhead Parcel Transfer company.

The routes are: Duluth to Virginia on trunk highway No. 11 and to Chisholm on trunk highway No. 35; Chisholm to Grand Rapids on trunk highway No. 35; Virginia to Aurora on trunk highway No. 35.

A reservation specifies that the company shall not handle goods to stations served by the Mesaba railway company between Gilbert and Hibbing. The railroad is now in the hands of a receiver and any reduction in its freight revenue might deprive the district of the necessary service from the line, the commission held.

FARMERS STRIVE DILIGENTLY TO OVERCOME HANDICAPS

Chicago, June 2.—(UP)—Diligent work on the part of middle western farmers during the past month has served to enable them to almost overcome the cold weather and late spring handicap, according to a survey made by a Chicago mail order house.

At the beginning of May, the report said, the farmers were three weeks behind with their work and during the last week of the month the work had been brought up to where the farmers were only a week behind normal.

Another bright spot in the report was the fact that apples escaped the spring freezes and promise to be plentiful on the market. Fruit as a whole averages 88.6 per cent of normal.

FROM MINNESOTA
COMING JUNE 13

AMATEUR TRAPSHOOTING ASSO-CIATION ROUNDING UP SHOOTERS

MANY BORDERING STATES AND CANADIANS TO BE REPRE-SENTED

Friends of Captain William H. Fawcett, world known trapshot and 1924 Olympic manager, have requested him to stage a registered trapshoot event at his alluring summer resort at Breezy Point Lodge on Big Pelican lake, on Sunday, June 13.

After the shoot, boats will be at the service of the trap artists for fishing that is incomparable. In the evening a dinner will be served with the Breezy Point orchestra taking care of the dancers.

The Amateur Trapshooting Association of Vandalia, Ohio, hopes to round up a big list of shooters for this event. All Minnesota will be represented, including about 100 per cent of the Brainerd Gun club.

Border states will send their sportsmen and a large Canadian delegation is also coming from Winnipeg, as well as other sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The traps at Breezy Point are ideally situated and good scores have always been the rule there. The traps face the lake. The state shoot held there in recent years, was the largest of its kind in the history of Minnesota. Some time in the future Captain Fawcett, who is an official of the zone association of several states, hopes to also stage a zone shoot at the resort.

AMERICAN WALKER CUP GOLFERS LEAD BRITISH

St. Andrews, Scotland, June 2.—(U.P.)—The American Walker cup golfers were leading their British opponents 3 matches to 1, after the first 18 holes of foursome play today.

Jess Sweetser and George Von Elm, Bobby Jones and Watts Gunn and Roland Mackenzie and Robert A. Gardner were taking the measure of the British pairs drawn against them. Francis Ouimet and Jesse Guilford were having more difficulty, however, and finished the morning round three down.

The weather was ideal and a considerable gallery turned out for the matches. Foursome play will be concluded this afternoon.

DELBERN BLEW UP IN WINONA GAME

Derbern, Duluth professional heaver, fell flat in his pitching in the game with Winona for the Brainerd N. P. team last Sunday, allowing 14 hits and losing by the score of 13 to 2.

The poor pitching of Delbern, whose name has now been stroked off the Brainerd lineup, was the direct cause of the railroad boys losing. The N. P. team had only two errors chalked up against them in the game. Future games will see two fast heavies on hand for the N. P. team.

FRENCH NATIONAL TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Paris, June 2.—(U.P.)—The French national tennis championships opened today with one of the best fields in the history of continental lawn tennis.

Most of the aces of three countries, France, England and the United States, were scheduled for first round play. Among the women Helen Wills, American champion; Suzanne Lenglen, French titleholder; Didi Vlasto, second ranking French star, and Mrs. Kathleen Godfrey, British player, all were favored to win their early matches.

If Miss Wills and Mlle. Lenglen go through the tournament undefeated they are expected to meet for the second time on June 11. The French ace looked in much better condition than the California girl, who was admittedly tired.

Paris, June 2.—(U.P.)—Playing in her usual dashing style, Suzanne Lenglen today swept through the first round play of the French women's tennis championship, defeating Mme. Peteri, Hungarian title holder, 6-1, 6-0.

Vincent Richards advanced through the first round of the men's tournament, turning back Paul Hirsch, eighth ranking player of France, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Helen Wills, American women's champion, won her first round match defeating Mme. Golding 6-3, 7-5. The California girl was obviously off her game and was suffering from a cold.

CORONACH WINS AT EPSOM DOWNS IN A CANTER

3 YEAR OLD COLT WAS RIDDEN BY JOCKEY J. CHILDS

LANCE GAYE OF W. M. G. SINGER WAS SECOND IN THE RACE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Epsom Downs, England, June 2.—(U.P.)—Lord Woolavington's three year old colt Coronach, ridden by Jockey J. Childs, today won in a canter the 147th renewal of the derby.

W. M. G. Singer's Lance Gaye, R. Perryman up, was second, and the Earl of Derby's Colorado, carrying the faith of the public and about $10,000,000 in wagers, was third. T. Weston rode Colorado. Lord Astor's Swift and Sure, ridden by R. Jones, was fourth.

The only American owned horse in the race was A. K. Macomber's War Mist.

The betting was 11 to 2 against Coronach, 4 to 1 against Lance Gaye and 2 to 1 against Colorado.

Coronach won by four lengths. A short head separated Lance Gaye and Colorado. The time for the mile and four furlongs was 2 minutes 47 2-5 seconds.

Sheets of rain swept the Downs shortly before the horses emerged from the paddock. Water splashed over the bookmakers' blackboards, obliterating the odds chalked up there for the information of last minute bettors.

It was the second derby winner for Lord Woolavington. In 1922 he achieved his first derby victory with Captain Cattle, Steve Donoghue up. Before that this famous distiller had spent several fortunes in seeking the honor of a derby winner.

War Mist, the American-owned entry of A. K. Macomber, finished ninth in the field of 19 starters. Apple Sammy, owned by J. P. Hornung, was last. Even so, Apple Sammy won money for some one, for the mere fact that he started was worth $10,000 to the person who drew his ticket in the Calcutta sweepstakes. Every starter paid that much.

The crowd was well below the 750,000 persons which the derby had been expected to draw. The lack of coal with which to operate as many railway trains as in past years was the principal cause of the slump in attendance.

London, June 2.—Robert Bishop, head of the policy department of Messrs. Hartley, Cooper and Co., insurance brokers of London, won 120,000 pounds approximately $600,000 on today's derby at Epsom Downs. Bishop drew Coronach, the winner, in the Calcutta sweepstakes.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—George Sisler, whose steal of home in the seventh inning to tie the score aided the Browns to beat Detroit, 9 to 7.

The Giants were barely able to hold off the Phillies, who rallied late in the game, New York winning 7 to 6.

Five homers were among the 25 hits gathered in a wild encounter in which the Cubs defeated the Cardinals 10 to 9.

Jack Lelivet's Brewers ran their string of victories to eight straight by taking the Saints into camp 1 to 0.

The Colonels won from the Hens 13 to 5 in a free hitting contest.

Although the Senators took an early lead, the Indians finally won 5 to 3.

The Millers and Kaws were idle because of rain at Kansas City.

Early Musical Instrument

The horn or hornpipe is thought to be, next to the reed, the earliest wind instrument. It has been found among most savage nations. It was first made of horn, hence its name. The dance called the hornpipe is supposed to be so named from having been performed to the Welsh pib-corn, that is, the hornpipe.

"A Reading From Homer"

In Lourens Alma-Tadema's painting a professional Greek reader and interpreter looks up from his scroll. A hunter lies on the floor. At the extreme left stands a traveler. The man with the harp is Phaedon. The beautiful woman is Sappho. The legend concerning the latter two has been incorporated in the painting.

Hoof and Mouth Game

Is Her Idea of Golf

A new nickname for golf was put forward by a disgruntled "golf widow," who dubbed the pastime "the hoof and mouth game." This woman, who had not taken to the links in self-defense as have so many women recently, said that she had put up with the "hoofing" part of golf which kept her husband away from home most of his spare hours, but had rebelled when she found that the "mouth" part of the game invaded her evenings.

"He hoofed all day over the links," she said, "and then mouthed all night about the hoofing."

Another World Mark

Another world's record was shattered in the windup of the National A. A. U. swimming championships at the I. A. C., in Chicago. Walter Spence, shown in the photograph, dove into the tank and swam 200 yards by the breast stroke and shattered that world's record. His time was 2:29.35 and the best previous effort was 2:32.00.

DEMPSEY IS ORDERED TO FIGHT WILLS

CHAIRMAN FARLEY THINKS IT WILL CLEAR UP THE SITUATION

FANS WONDER WHAT WILL HAP- PEN IF DEMPSEY DEFIES COMMISSION

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 2.—The effect of the ultimatum given Jack Dempsey by the state boxing commission dominated ring gossip today.

"This will clear up the heavy-weight situation," observed Chairman James A. Farley of the commission, as he sent a telegram to Dempsey directing him to sign a contract to fight Harry Wills before June 22.

To many others the dictum seemed to complicate rather than clarify the case. For, it was asked, what can the boxing board of this state do, if Dempsey defies the order?

The commission cannot revoke Dempsey's license because he has no license. It can declare him ineligible, but Tex Rickard can take the fight to New Jersey in case he obtained the signatures of a Gene Tunney-Dempsey bout.

It is possible, of course, that the boxing moguls can declare the heavy-weight championship vacated so far as New York is concerned and notify the world in general that this state considers Harry Wills the title holder. Such a drastic procedure, of course, would draw horse laughs from the rest of the world.

The situation in reality is in the capable hands of Tex Rickard. He is due back in town from a western excursion today and may confide the plans which no doubt will ultimately be adopted.

TEX RICKARD GIVES INTERVIEW

New York, June 2.—"Tex" Rickard, fight promoter, in whose hands Jack Dempsey has placed arrangements for the next heavyweight championship bout today expressed indifference, when shown the edict of the state athletic commission that Dempsey must sign within three weeks to fight Harry Wills.

"Dempsey has left his next fight entirely up to me," Rickard said. "In my own mind the plans are virtually completed, but I am not yet ready to divulge them."

He said he believed Dempsey "preferred to fight Wills."

Rickard returned to his office today from a western trip on which he saw Dempsey.

The champion's recent illness, Rickard said, had left him seven pounds under weight, but had not seriously impaired his physical condition.

DEMPSEY SAYS IT'S ALL IN RICKARD'S HANDS

Kansas City, Mo., June 2.—Jack Dempsey has no interest in the edict of the New York boxing commission and as far as he is concerned the matter is entirely in the hands of Tex Rickard, he said here today. Dempsey is en route from Hot Springs, Ark., to Colorado Springs.

"Rickard is handling the whole matter," Dempsey said. "I will let him take care of it and shall pay no attention to the commission's order."

Athletes Placed on Pan at English University

Cambridge university, which, with the University of Oxford, shares the distinction of being one of the two greatest and most historic universities in England, has handed down the dictum that henceforward sport must take a secondary place in the affairs of the university, and that work must come first.

In this connection the authorities have "sent down" for a term several undergraduates who have been prominent in the university's sporting events because of their failure to pass certain of their preliminary examinations.

"If these young men cannot pass their examinations, then Cambridge is obviously no place for them," state the authorities in effect.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN IN BUSINESS HERE

Paul M. Jones, Son of H. V. Jones, Publisher Minneapolis Journal, Buys DeSmidt Soda Grill

TO DO MUCH ADVERTISING

Will Cater to Tourist, Drawing Much Business From The Twin Cities

Paul M. Jones, son of H. V. Jones, publisher of the Minneapolis Journal, has purchased the ice cream parlor and confectionery store, known as the DeSmidt Soda Grill on the northwest corner of Sixth and Laurel streets in the Iron Exchange building from Alfred DeSmidt.

The deal was closed late yesterday, Paul M. Jones having been working in the store for the past four days.

"I have located in Brainerd because I believe it affords the best location and possibilities for the future," said Mr. Jones to the Dispatch. "I looked over the entire Northwest and Brainerd as the gateway to Minnesota's 10,000 lakes appeared to me as the best place to open a business of this kind."

Regarding his conducting of the store, Mr. Jones stated that he was going to maintain the same high standard of goods as has prevailed and give his patrons the very best service possible.

Mr. Jones realized in purchasing the store that he had obtained the best site in Brainerd, the corner where two trunk highways pass. Besides catering to the public of Brainerd, he will seek the tourist trade from the cities, advertising Brainerd in the city papers as the gateway to the 10,000 lakes. His first display ad will appear in the Minneapolis Journal in an early edition. On the northeast corner of Sixth and Laurel streets opposite Mr. Jones' store will be the new Elks building now under construction.

Alfred DeSmidt proprietor of the soda grill, said he will continue to live in Brainerd for the summer but will spend the major part of his time at his cottage on Round Lake.

H. V. Jones, publisher of the Minneapolis Journal was in the city yesterday afternoon.

Paul M. Jones is well known in the Twin Cities through his business affiliations and that fact alone will bring him a great deal of business from the cities. He also intends to supply information to his tourist patrons on the lakes throughout the district.

Despite the fact that he has been in Brainerd only a few days, Mr. Jones has already made many friends and new patrons to the store. The grill is considered the best soda and confectionery store in Brainerd. It is a parlor on par with the best in the cities.

BIG HUDSON RIVER STEAMER SINKS AT DOCK

WASHINGTON IRVING STRUCK
BY A CARELESS
BARGE

SHIP WAS CALLING AT HOBOKEN
TO PICK UP PAS-SENGERS

Hoboken, N. J., June 2.—(UP)—The big Hudson River steamer Washington Irving, majestic river boat, which had a capacity of 5,000 passengers, was sunk in a collision in the lower Hudson yesterday.

A dozen tugs, which reached the ship before it sank took off the passengers numbering only a few and the crew of 150 men.

The ship sank until it rested on the river bottom, its bow deck awash. The accident occurred about 9:20 A. M. as the ship was calling at Hoboken to pick up passengers for the day's trip to Albany.

The exact number of passengers aboard was unknown at the offices of the Hudson river day line which operates the ship.

The company officials said the ship was in its dock at the moment of the collision, and that it was struck by a heavy oil barge passing up the river, under the veil of heavy fog, which hampered all shipping on the lower Hudson, the East river and Long Island Sound yesterday.

The ship swung out as it was hit and went down about 20 feet from the shaft of the New York-New Jersey vehicular tunnel, which runs under the Hudson.

A dozen tugs swarmed out from the Lackawanna, Erie and other piers immediately on receipt of word of the accident and so far as was known all aboard were taken off without loss of life or injury. They were landed first at the pier used in construction of the vehicle tunnel and then taken to the Erie, Lackawanna and Pennsylvania piers at Hoboken and Jersey City.

The barge which had struck the ship was nowhere in sight and neither at the pier nor at the company's office was the exact identity of the barge known. It was believed that it had gone on its way perhaps without realizing the ship it struck had been seriously damaged.

Captain Jennings of the Washington Irving was the last to leave the ship, remaining until all passengers and the crew were off and the vessel had settled until it was resting on an even keel on the river bottom, its lower decks awash.

STOCKS STRENGTHENED TODAY

New York, June 2.—(UP)—Stocks were strengthened today by the speedy release afforded for the stringency for the demand created in the demand loan market by heavy withdrawals in connection with monetary operations over the end of May.

After renewing at 4½ per cent compared with Tuesday's closing of 5 per cent the call rate eased off to 4 per cent demonstrating that the $350,000,000 dispersed in June 1 interest and dividend interests was flowing back to Wall street.

Covering operations started a rally in the general list which gathered fair momentum in groups enjoying favorable trade conditions, particularly the rails and oils and in special issues like Corn Products, United States

Industrial Alcohol and General Motors.

Explanation for the run-up of more than three points in the General Motors stocks was supplied by announcement that J. P. Morgan was placing privately an offering of $9,000,000 additional preferred stock at 118½.

NORTHWEST IN A COLD WAVE

FROST FORECAST TONIGHT BY THE WEATHER BUREAU

St. Paul, Minn., June 2.—(UP)—Though it was the second day of June, the northwest shivered today in a cold wave.

Temperatures from 38 to 44 above zero were reported in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin today. The Pas, Manitoba, was a chilly spot with the mercury at 30 above, while 28 above was recorded in northwestern Canada. In St. Paul, the temperature at 7 A. M. was 44 and other towns reporting similar temperatures were Huron, Pierre, Medicine Hat, Winnipeg and Williston. Forty-two degrees was registered at Escanaba, Moorhead, Minnedosa and Devil's Lake, 40 at Calgary and Prince Albert and 38 at S. S. Marie and Bismarck.

Frost tonight was forecast by the weather bureau which said the cold wave would be succeeded by warmer weather probably late Thursday.

AMUSEMENTS

Adolphe Menjou Has Role of Waiter in New Paramount Comedy

A sparkling, delicately wrought farcical tale is "The Grand Duchess and the Waiter," which captured a first-night audience yesterday at the Lyceum theatre with its scintillating action, superlative acting, smooth direction and magnificent mounting. It is showing again today.

New Hull Novel Comes to Lyceum Screen

Marion Fairfax, screen writer and producer, ushered in the first picture made by herself with a christening. The picture is "Old Loves and New," which shows at the Lyceum on Thursday and Friday.

Although appropriate, the christening was merely a happy movie coincidence. "Old Loves and New," which is Miss Fairfax's adaptation of the celebrated E. M. Hull novel, "The Desert Healer," opens with a christening ball in Carew Castle, England, in honor of an heir born amid the strife of the late war.

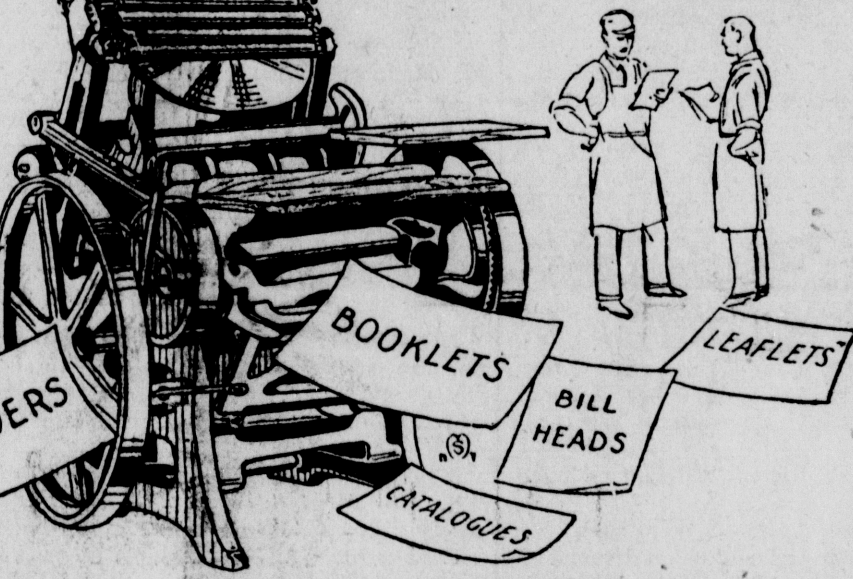

Money of No Value

"Life had no pleasures for me. Although I had plenty of money it was of no value, as my stomach almost constantly distressed me. I lost faith in all doctors and medicine. Talking with my druggist about my case he advised me to try MAYR'S. I am now enjoying life again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere. —Adv.
